Summary >

I love what I do. I work sunrise to sunset because I love it. I work with three monitors, and if I could get a fourth on the wall easily, I definitely would. I've been creating graphics for the past two decades. The last decade was a shift to focus on all aspects of marketing.

I love affiliate marketing. I love launching campaigns. I love designing flyers. I love coding landing pages. I love fixing Wordpress bugs.

Some of my highlights in the past 5 years are as follows:

- Used my affiliate marketing experience to become the top sub-promoter by ticket sales at Opera Atlanta Nightclub using Google Adwords Display Network.
- Launched my own international Google Display Network campaign complete with conversion and third party tracking using tracking pixels and server pixels.
- Redesigned and launched my nightclub promotion website that generates passive income based on promotional codes and ticket sales
- Maintained working relationships with clients all over the world and in different times zones by simply always being available on Skype.

I love nerding out on my machine and working for hours on end doing flyers, working on code, launching campaigns or setting up a server. I just love it all.

I have extended experience in the concept of "I need this yesterday."
